BITTER FIGHTS STILL WAGING IN BUDAPEST

BULLETIN
United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. declared today the Soviet Union not only had ignored the U. N. order for non-interference in Hungary but had actually "stepped up its attacks." The U. S. delegate, addressing an emergency session of the 76-nation General Assembly, called the actions of the Russians "utterly revolting." The attacks, he said showed a "horrible callousness" to human suffering. Lodge warned that refusal of the Soviet government to end the fighting and withdraw its forces from Hungary would make it necessary for the assembly to consider what further action can be taken.

BY William L. Ryan
Vienna (AP)—Bitter new street fighting broke out in Budapest today and the Russian-supported Hungarian government ordered new measures to combat the doggedly resisting rebels.
Russia served notice she would brook no interference from the outside world in her fight to crush Hungary's bid for freedom. Premier Bulganin told President Eisenhower in a note that the question of Soviet troop withdrawals from Hungary was "completely and entirely" between the Russian and Hungarian governments.
The Red Hungarian regime's Budapest radio said Soviet troops and police forces were unable to quell shooting in Akacia Street, in Budapest's 7th district.
The broadcast said "armed gangs" were breaking into factories and others were attacking food trains en route to Budapest and carrying off the food in trucks.
Reports reaching Vienna said freedom fighters appeared to be maintaining a firm position in the ruined old castle at Buda, overlooking the capital, and several other strong points throughout the city.
Two more of the city's best hotels—the Royal and the Continental—went up in flames. Heavy rebel fire prevented fire brigades from getting near the blazing buildings, Budapest radio said.
There have been conflicting reports about Nagy. Some said he was in the custody of Soviet

Motorcycle Rider Has Close Call in Accident

An Akeley young man narrowly escaped death on a dark highway last night when the motorcycle he was driving south on Route 60 was struck from behind by a motorist who did not stop to identify himself.
Roger Clyde Swanson, 21, of RD 2, Akeley, was traveling south on Route 60 in the Town of Kiantone when the unidentified vehicle hit his machine and he was thrown several feet through the air, landing on his head. A crash helmet and leather jacket saved the young man from more serious injuries.
He did suffer lacerations on his chin and hands, and brush burns about the body. Swanson told investigating officers he heard a vehicle approach him from behind. After he was struck and thrown, the unidentified machine stopped briefly, then sped off into the night.
The rear of the motorcycle was demolished.

High School Students Stage A 'Beat Jamestown' Assembly

The annual Warren High School assembly programmed in anticipation of the Warren-Jamestown battle took place in the school auditorium this afternoon as the last event on the day's schedule.
With Jim Griffin as emcee, the assembly was sponsored by the Dragon team, all players taking part in varied and assorted costumes. Set up as a trial of the Jamestown Red Raiders in a conspiracy to beat Warren, the script was written by Griffin and Hank Lanman. The latter served as judge, Dick Kremer was head juror, John Berding was seen as a picture hanging on the wall throughout the program.
Phil Cerra, Dragons' manager and eyewitness to the crime, was

Expert Technician In Charge Of Local Hospital Laboratory Past Eleven Years Is Through

Effective eleven o'clock Thursday evening the Warren General Hospital has been without the services of Dr. J. R. Sugerman who has been in charge of the laboratory at the institution for the past 11 years and three months.
It was learned today that Dr. Sugerman was notified late last evening, following an earlier meeting of the board of directors, that his services had been terminated. It is understood that the decision followed discussions over a new contract for the expert technician, which had been under negotiations since last spring. Asked about the development Dr. Sugerman said today "I have not been fired, but I am no longer supervising the services at the laboratory. The board merely notified me late last night that they could not meet my terms."

MEDICAL SOCIETY IS UP IN ARMS!

The Times-Mirror learned early this afternoon that a meeting of members of the Warren County Medical Society will be held this evening at nine o'clock when the situation resulting between Pathologist J. R. Sugerman and the board of directors of the Warren General Hospital will be discussed. It is understood that the Medical Society is unanimous in opposing any action that will remove Dr. Sugerman as laboratory technician at the institution.

Whether or not a successor to Dr. Sugerman has been secured could not be learned today. The office of Administrator Joseph Williamson reported that he is out of town and will not be back at his desk until Monday.
The Times-Mirror learned today that there is considerable indignation among members of the Warren County Medical Society because of the severance of the services of Dr. Sugerman.
Dr. Sugerman came to Warren in the fall of 1945 as the first pathologist in Warren General. Since that time he has been responsible for building up one of the finest laboratories in the section. Incidentally his work started in the old building before the reconstruction of the present hospital.

United States Offering Haven to Hungarians

Washington (AP)—The United States joined European nations today in offering haven for Hungarians who fled before the return of Russian-dominated rule in their country.
President Eisenhower directed yesterday that up to 5,000 of the refugees be admitted under the Refugee Relief Act, which set up special immigration quotas and procedures for victims of Communist aggression.
Pierce J. Gerety, deputy administrator of the act, made it clear that red tape will be cut to the minimum, saying, "We are going to get the people in here."
Through White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower called for American volunteers to assure employment, housing and financial aid for the refugees. Such assurances are needed under the law, which requires also that refugees be screened for security.

3000 Evacuate From Homes In North Borgan

North Bergen, N.J. (AP)—Some 3,000 residents had been cleared today from an area around an 810-foot television tower for fear it might topple following a plane crash which took four lives.
A twin-engine Beechcraft en route from Indianapolis was flying through rain and fog yesterday when it clipped one leg of the lattice steel tower, believed to be the tallest structure in New Jersey.
The private plane then smashed into the top of a crowded apartment house eight blocks away. One engine was hurled into the courtyard of a parochial school. Flaming gasoline sprayed trees along the street.
Police said four persons are known dead—two men who were in the plane and two women from the apartment house. One of the women jumped five stories to the street in panic as the building burst into flames.
Fifteen others were injured, one seriously. They included 12 firemen.
Mayor Angelo Sarubbi ordered some 3,000 persons in the area to evacuate their homes last night. About 500 volunteer workers helped them move in with relatives or into two schools thrown open as emergency centers.
The tower is owned by New York radio station WOR but has not been in use since 1953. Residents have been unsuccessful in court action to get the tower torn down as a hazardous nuisance.
WOR officials announced the top of the tower would be dismantled today. Gordon Gray, executive vice president and general manager of the station, said about 75 feet would be removed "as a precautionary measure."
Those tentatively identified as dead were:
Russell S. Williams, 58, Indianapolis, president of the Bonded Gasoline & Oil Co., a subsidiary of Gaseteria, Inc. He was on his way to LaGuardia Airport, New York, to meet his son and daughter-in-law returning from Europe.
William Cromley, Trafalgar, Ind., the pilot.

Nasser Says United States and Russia Were With Egypt

Cairo, Egypt (AP)—President Nasser declared today the United States and Soviet Russia "were with us" when Egypt defended herself against British, French and Israeli attacks. He denied his Arab allies had failed him and that his air force had been destroyed.
The Egyptian president declared the Arab allies were "ready to fight" but he rejected their aid because he did not want to spread the war.
"King Saud contacted me by telephone and said the Saudi Arabian army and money were at Egypt's service," Nasser said in a talk at El Azhar Mosque.
Nasser said President Shukri Kuwari of Syria also offered to intervene in the fight but he rejected the offer because he did not want to involve Syria.
Nasser said he was explaining the position of Egypt's allies in answer to enemy demands: "Where is Arab nationalism?"
Nasser said Prime Minister Eden of Britain was not able to fulfill his obligations.

Bad Check Passer Jips Many Warren Merchants

A man who cashed checks totaling almost $300 Saturday afternoon while purchasing maternity clothes for his wife and a few items for himself was discovered Wednesday to have had his heart rather than his bank account in the right place.
Police in Pennsylvania and New York State today were looking for a "James L. Smith," about 35, who had spent a week working in a Warren plant before cashing and running.
A series of bouncing checks ranging from $15 to $55 were left in his wake. The man and his wife had been staying in a tourist home while local prospects were sized up.
The man paid for a ride to Westfield where it is assumed he and his wife caught a train

NO PLANS FOR A MEETING OF BIG 3 POWERS

BULLETIN
Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower and congressional leaders discussed the tense world situation for 2½ hours today. The legislators left the White House using such terms as "grave" and "serious" but there were expressions also of optimism. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas told reporters he thought the discussion had been "very fruitful and helpful." "It's obvious that it is a very serious situation," Johnson said. House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts said that "of course it is a grave situation but I am still optimistic about a settlement in the Middle East."

Washington (AP)—The White House said today "there are no plans at this moment" for British Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet to confer here with President Eisenhower.
Press Secretary James C. Hagerty called newsmen to his office and said he had seen what he termed several "cockeyed" news dispatches, and added that he wanted to set the picture straight.
He said there was no truth to reports that:

1. Eden and Mollet "are flying to Washington for a meeting with the President."
2. The United States had accepted a Swiss government invitation to attend a conference with the heads of government of Great Britain, France, Russia and India.

Hagerty said the invitation "has not yet been answered by the United States."

Later, after his session with reporters, Hagerty said he wanted to clarify his remarks about the reports of an Eden-Mollet meeting with Eisenhower here.
On another matter, Hagerty said reports that the President had answered a new note from Soviet Premier Bulganin were not true but that Eisenhower has received such a note.
Meanwhile, the new British ambassador, Sir Harold Anthony Caccia, called at the White House this morning and presented his credentials to Eisenhower.

Volunteer Firemen Discuss Expansion Of Radio Hookup

Improving radio communications between Warren County's active volunteer fire companies were discussed at the WCAYFA meeting in Kinzua last night with 70 attending, and Don Curtis presiding. The Rev. Halls gave the invocation.
Hoyt Stout and Homer Haines outlined the continuing development of selective calls, walkie-talkies and bay station service throughout the county and stated even this would be improved with the arrival of more needed equipment now on order.
Spring Creek volunteers announced the acquisition of a new, 700-gallon pumper truck.
Bob Mahan of North Warren, Merle See of Youngsville and Charles Miller of Russell all told of the excellent reception given the new volunteer ambulance services in their communities.
W. C. Fuellhart and Mr. Haines spoke of their recent trip to Harrisburg where they scouted the good prospects for buying war surplus fire fighting equipment next year.
Spring Creek volunteers were congratulated for their fast work in dousing a hunting camp fire which could have started a major blaze. Other eight fire calls in (Turn to Page Eight)

Plans Complete for Warren's Observance of Veterans' Day Monday at 11 O'Clock A. M.

Warren's three veterans organizations—the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion, and the Marine Corps League will participate in the observance of Veterans' Day on Monday. Speaker of the day will be Alexander C. Flick, Jr., Judge, Warren County Common Pleas Court.
The program will start at eleven o'clock Monday at the Soldiers and Sailors Monument near the north end of the Hickory Street bridge. Participating will be William R. Walker, Commander of Chief Post 135, American Legion; Richard L. English, Commander of the Dinsmoor-Schwung Post 631, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Robert V. Gorsuch, Commander of the General Joseph H. Pendleton Detachment of the U. S. Marine Corps League; Robert Dietsch, Marine Corps League Chaplain; the V.F.W. firing squad under command of Edward Nasman; Paul Henning, American Legion bugler; and the speaker, Judge Flick.
Walker, Gorsuch and English will officiate at the placing of a wreath at the Monument in commemoration of the war dead. The V.F.W., and the Legion, will provide color bearers; and the Marine Corps League color bearers and color guard.
The following program will be presented:
Opening Announcement—Richard L. English, Commander, Dinsmoor-Schwung Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.
Prayer—Robert Dietsch, Chaplain, Marine Corps League.
Ritual—Richard L. English, Commander, Dinsmoor-Schwung Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Robert V. Gorsuch, Commandant, Marine Corps League; William R. Walker, American Legion.
Introduction of Speaker—Richard L. English.

Flag Raising Ceremony—Dave Deardorff, Joseph Garland.
Closing announcement—Richard English.
Color Bearers—American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Marine Corps League.
Color Guard—Marine Corps League.

Democrats Within Single Seat Of Carrying Voting Strength Into the Congress Next Year

Washington (AP)—Democrats were within one seat today of carrying their present House voting strength into the new Congress, with prospects of adding most of the five races still undecided.
In the Senate, they enter the 86th Congress with the same 49-47 margin over Republicans they held in the present Congress.
Democrats led in four of the five House contests still hanging from Tuesday's election. Their final margin may have to await official canvasses later this month.
But even without these, the Democrats were assured of at least 231 seats—13 more than they need for control. In the expiring Congress they held 232 seats to 203 for the Republicans.

Below Normal Weather Promised This Weekend

By The Associated Press
Extended forecast for Saturday, Nov. 10, through Wednesday, Nov. 14:
Western Pennsylvania, Western New York and West Virginia—Temperature will average 5-9 degrees below normal, rather cold throughout period, somewhat warmer south and colder north Sunday, turning colder Tuesday and Wednesday, with snow flurries through mountains and lower lakes region occurring frequently except on Monday and possibly Tuesday.

Big Black Bear Ambles Through East Side Yard

Mrs. Clifford Kyberg saw the grizzly truth this morning as she sat in her pink home on Fifth Avenue Extension sipping breakfast coffee.
A large black bear, described by the excited Mrs. Kyberg as "no baby", ambled through her back yard a few feet from where the breakfast clubber was sipping.
Two fast phone calls alerted mother (Mrs. Amil Erickson who lives just up the road) and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Mendell Hunter, who arrived in time to verify that "old slow foot" was no illusion. The creature limped a bit, perhaps the victim of a trap or rifle shot.
Bruin disappeared over the slope, presumably in search of apples in a nearby orchard. The vicinity of the Kyberg home is mostly open fields. Hold on, though, bear season doesn't open until Monday, November 26th.

ISRAEL AGREEMENT TO PULL TROOPS OUT OF EGYPT IS A SUDDEN CHANGE OF POLICY

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
United Nations, N. Y. (AP)—Israel's agreement to pull its troops out of Egypt spurred efforts today to rush a U. N. force to the area to police the shaky Middle East cease-fire.
Quiet was reported on the Suez Canal battlefield as U. N. officials worked at top speed to mobilize the international police force.
Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld hinted that the first units of the U. N. force would reach Egypt "very shortly."
Informed sources said plans call for getting two teams of about 40 men each on the scene as soon as possible, and to follow up with a final force expected to number from 2,500 to 5,000 men or more. Seventeen U. N. members have volunteered to contribute to the police organization. The big powers are excluded from service with the force.

Grim Situation Subject of Talk At White House

Israel's agreement to withdraw its troops represented an overnight change of policy after a strong appeal from President Eisenhower. Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion told his Parliament Wednesday Israel would not yield any Israeli or Israeli-occupied territory to any foreign force, whatever it was called.
Last night Israel's foreign minister, Mrs. Golda Meir, messaged Hammarskjöld that "the government of Israel will willingly withdraw its forces from Egypt immediately upon the conclusion of satisfactory arrangements with the United Nations in connection with the emergency international force."
Britain and France agreed earlier to turn their military positions in the canal zone over to the U. N. forces.
Egypt had agreed to accept the General Assembly resolution setting up a U. N. command for the Suez area. So far as could be learned, however, no additional word had been received from Cairo on acceptance of the police force itself.
Hammarskjöld said he regarded Egyptian agreement to the establishment of the U. N. command as acceptance of the force. But as nations volunteered contributions, he asked Egypt if each nationality was acceptable.
Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief U. N. truce observer in Palestine who now heads the projected police force, arrived in Cairo and said Egypt had agreed to accept 10 U. N. observers to watch over the cease-fire.
In a radio broadcast last night, Ben-Gurion said Israel would withdraw its troops from Egypt as soon as entry of a U. N. emergency force is assured. He made no direct mention of the Gaza Strip but implied that Israeli troops would not leave that territory, considered historically by Israel as hers but occupied by Egypt since the Palestine War.

Jackson Run Road Home Is Damaged By Morning Blaze

Approximately $1,500 damage was caused this morning by a fire in the East Abbey home on Jackson Run Road where the Yankee Bush road intersects two miles below Chancellors Valley.
A fire was discovered about 8:15 a. m. by Mrs. Abbey who was in the house with her three children. Having no telephone she ran to the road to flag down a passing motorist. The first did not stop but the second motorist took the message and called Sugar Grove Volunteer Firemen from a house down the road.
Two trucks and 15 men responded in time to save most of the family's furniture. However, the blaze, believed to have been caused by an overheated chimney, burned out a quarter of the south wall of the one-story, frame structure.
Fire captain Perry Wilcox and his men stayed on the scene until 10:30 a. m. to put out the fire completely. Mr. Abbey was at work when the blaze started.

Over 200 Pennsylvanians Will Make Flying Tour of Europe

Tarentum (AP)—A group of more than 200 Pennsylvanians from all walks of life will fly to Europe tomorrow on a tour sponsored by the Tarentum Valley Daily News.
The two-week tour will take the travelers to England, The Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France.
Eugene A. Simon, president and general manager of the Valley Daily News, said the purpose of the trip is to give a "lot of little guys named Joe" an opportunity to see Europe.
Simon said 112 readers of the Valley Daily News have signed up for the tour. Also making the trip will be 37 readers of the Sharon, Pa. Herald and 55 readers of the Times-Chronicle newspapers of Jenkintown, Pa., area, comprising three weeklies.
The plan was announced publicly last May and "we got a terrific response," Simon said. "We'll have a real cross-section of America on this trip."
Simon said the idea for the European tour developed from a trip the newspaper sponsored last January to the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif. He said similar foreign tours are planned for the future on an annual basis.
The cost of the European trip per individual on a family basis is $688. The individual rate is $798.
Simon said the initial cost "covers every single item of expense" with the exception of purely personal expenditures.
The group will leave Pittsburgh in three Air France Planes. One of the planes will fly to London via Chicago and Montreal, the others by way of New York.

Turkey Production Trend Is Toward The Larger Birds

Community Council Student Fund Committee Hears Report Of Qualifications Committee

Harrisburg — With the approach of Thanksgiving and its turkey dinners, the State Department of Agriculture said an established trend toward production of larger birds would continue into next year.

This year's Pennsylvania crop of two million turkeys is 10 per cent under 1955, due largely to a cut-back by growers in the number of light breed birds raised in response to increasing consumer preference for the heavier, meatier types—in both full-grown and smaller sizes.

Surveys by the Department's crop reporting service show that turkey growers plan still further reductions in light breed birds during 1957. As of October 1 Pennsylvania flock owners intended to keep four per cent fewer light breed hens for production of hatching eggs next season.

On the opposite side of the ledger the growers report they planned to keep 16 per cent more heavy white breeder hens and seven per cent more bronze and other heavy breeder hens than they kept last year.

Greater use of 20 to 25 pound and larger turkeys by restaurants has developed through consumer acceptance of turkey as a year-around food item instead of a holiday season luxury not too many years ago, marketing observers said.

The big news emanating from the November meeting of the Warren Community Council Scholarship Fund Committee, which met at Jefferson Street School under the chairmanship of David Olson, was the report of the Qualifications committee presented by Doris Smith, advisor of the FTA class at Warren High School.

Other members comprising this committee are Joseph Passaro, Clayton L. Rhoades, Mrs. Caldwell, and Mrs. Robert Patchen. The tentative points set up thus far are:

1. Both boys and girls shall be eligible.
2. The availability of the scholarship will not be restricted to members of the FTA, but to any graduating senior in the Warren Area who is interested in the teaching profession.
3. A committee will serve as the administrative body.
4. Letters of application will be written to the committee and must include the following:
 - (a) Need
 - (b) Scholastic rating
 - (c) References 1, e, 3 to 5
 - (d) Future plans
 - (e) School preferences
 - (f) Extra curricular activities
5. Consideration of applications will be followed by a personal interview.
6. The award will be made at graduation, but the money will be presented upon college entrance.
7. There will be no restrictions on the type of teacher-training college.

Much more study will be required to set up and clarify the definite qualifications, and this committee is hard at work in getting them ready to release.

There are fund-raising projects under consideration by the ways and means committee from whom there will be a report soon. The committee wishes to thank the public for their fine support on the first project, the Dusty Owens show, which was held last month. Considering the short time the units have had to work on the project, the treasury has gotten off to a fine start. Knowing the ever-increasing needs for more and more teachers in Pennsylvania has prompted these PTA organizations to do all they can to encourage young people interested in teaching to help all they can towards attaining the goal set ahead. It's also brought to the attention this fund extends to all in the Warren Area Joint System, and not to be misled to only include those within the Borough.

Life Saving Classes To Start Soon in "Y" Pool

Paul Steinkamp, chairman of life saving and water safety for Warren County Red Cross Chapter, announces fall and winter classes will get under way November 15th and 29th.

Junior classes will start next Thursday, the senior group on the later date, with instruction at 7:00 p. m. every Thursday in the "Y" pool. Classes are open to any boy or girl 12 years and over, or for the older group, 16 years and over.

Maisie Morland, of Youngsville High School faculty, will instruct the younger group. Miss Morland attended Red Cross aquatic school this summer and directed water-front activities at Camp Birdsal Eddy during the summer months.

Mr. Steinkamp will instruct the senior class.

Assisting with the instruction will be Richard Aldrich, Barbara Tumm, Joan Chiquennoi and Richard Isenman, all holding Life Saving Certificates.

METHODIST HOME NOTES

Margaret H. McBride

Birthdays have a way of coming with almost frightening regularity, but we have been fortunate in having these later years of ours made more pleasant by the monthly parties which Methodist church groups have tendered us for the past three years. The WSCS of Slippery Rock and West Liberty were the friends who sponsored the party on Thursday afternoon for both the October and November members. The program leader was Mrs. Wayne Flegger and Mrs. George Sager, President of the WSCS, made a brief speech, and referred to our member from Slippery Rock, Mrs. Zelma Morrow in most complimentary terms, then presented her with a special corsage. The program included two vocal solos, two costume dances by a cunning little dancer, Carol Miller, piano solos by her sister, Donna and little Lois Albert, whose mother also gave us a reading which brought generous applause. Seated at the birthday table were, for October, Mrs. Elgie Ray, Mrs. Doia Blystone and Miss Maude Hawthorne. For November, Ernest Munger, Mylo Putnam, Miss Nancy Kahle, Miss Florence Fawcett, Mrs. Grace Mischler and Mrs. Margaret McBride, all of whom received a gift from the visitors. I had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Beulah Conway, who was my particular giver, and through her met a number of the others, which completed my enjoyment. My 81st birthday came duly on Nov. 3 much to my real surprise. It was a day of heart-warming episodes, all to make me happy that I was among so many good friends. My son and his wife came down from Warren to help me celebrate too, loaded with gifts, as always. The most notable event this month will be the birthday of Miss Sarah Eddy, her 103rd, which comes Nov. 25. I regret to say that she is hopelessly bed-ridden.

Mr. Fern Keeler and daughter, Emma, of Lake City, Pa., and Mrs. Edmond Whipple, Mrs. Edna Whipple, of Fairview, were in last Sunday to see Mr. and Mrs. Mylo Putnam as well as Mrs. Blanche Chishers. The latter is making slow headway, but is improving steadily. Mrs. Ora Blenden, of Union City, her sister, Miss Grace Smith, and Miss Adelaide Kirk, the latter two from New York City, came to visit friends here last week. Miss Kirk's father, one of the most loved doctors of the "horse and buggy" days, will be well remembered by Cambridge Springs old-timers and its surrounding territory. Mrs. Homer Dunbar, of Cambridge Springs, who was a girlhood friend of Mrs. Charlie Jones, here was another member of Mrs. Blenden's group, and the party called on all the Union City members. Mrs. Rose Thompson had as other guests the same day Miss Retta Wilson, Mrs. Ralph Anderson and Mrs. Oscar Shepherd. Mrs. Anderson also visited with Mrs. Ella McCray Casler, who was a former Union City resident.

Mrs. Flora Hopson had a happy time last Wednesday, when her niece, Mrs. Floyd Mowry, from Greenville, came over and took her to spend the day with her brother, Mr. Frank Barber, who is Mrs. Mowry's father, at Conneaut, O.

A most interesting dinner guest of Rev. George Braun last week was Mr. Frank DeFabbio, of Erie, who is the District Visitor from the State Council for the Blind. Since Mr. DeFabbio is blind, Mr. John Giles drove his car. He visits and checks folks whose eyesight is much impaired, and we have several who can qualify for that service. He tells us the state stands ready to send a teacher here to help such persons and to teach Braille if necessary, so we hope very much that can be brought about.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Roberts came home Wednesday from a long visit with relatives and friends in North Clymer, Jamestown and Kane, and Mrs. Josephine Carrie arrived Monday from her extended stay with her many friends and kin in this area. Her room-mate, Mrs. Elsie Hanrahan is back in her own room, but not gaining as she would like. Mrs. Florence Fawcett too has returned from her visit in Hopedale O and at St. Clairsville, O, but Miss Rebecca Hahn is away for the past week.

Mrs. Doris Blystone had visitors from Union City, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Glover, the other day, and on Saturday, Mrs. Mary Mead, Mrs. Helen Walton and Mrs. Wilhelm Davis visited Mrs. Blystone, Miss Maud Hawthorne and Mrs. Rose Thompson, also Mrs. Gertrude Minum, who is improving somewhat. A new member has just entered, Mrs. Grace Mischler, from Meadville, a friend of Mrs. Minum, and is already adjusting herself to our life here. It now means a wait of from four to five years for a vacancy, which is easy to see, with a backlog of some seventy applications, as only four or five vacancies occur in a year.

Mrs. Ethel Williams, with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Boyd of Waterford, spent Sunday afternoon with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Merald McGee, in Franklin. Then Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Pollock and their son Harry, came in to visit Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Ray on Nov. 4th.

Money Order Plan Of Post Office Is Marking Birthday

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, in a statement marking the 92nd birthday of the Post Office Department's money order system, says "money orders are easier to buy and easier to use than ever before."

Authorized by Act of Congress on May 17, 1864, and sponsored during Postmaster General Montgomery Blair's administration largely as a measure to aid troops during the Civil War, the system was put into operation officially on November 1 of that year. During the first eight months, money orders totaled $1,360,123. During this fiscal year, the total is expected to be approximately $6 billion.

"In speed and efficiency the money order system today on its 92nd birthday has reached its highest point," Mr. Summerfield commented.

Money order safety today is at its highest point in history, the Postmaster General noted also. Anyone purchasing a money order is guaranteed reimbursement in the event his order is among the relative few lost or stolen each year.

The Post Office Department retains over a 20-year period the records of unpaid money orders, and, of course, money order purchasers receive a receipt which can be used to trace orders involved in claims.

Processing of claims too has been streamlined as a result of establishing of a new money order center at Kansas City, Missouri, which uses latest punch card machine methods and equipment for its adult and filing operations.

Today, patrons may cash U. S. money orders at virtually all U. S. post offices, stations and branches. And international orders also may be sent to almost all the free nations of the world and cashed easily by residents of any of these nations.

In its early days, the maximum amount of a money order was $30, and such orders could be cashed only by specified offices—and even then only after the office which had issued the money order notified the paying office that it was okay to cash it.

Today money orders may be bought from more than 47,000 post offices and other postal installations, compared with 419 such offices back in the earliest days of the money order system. Today about 350,000,000 individual orders a year are issued, compared with 74,277 for the first eight months of operation of the system.

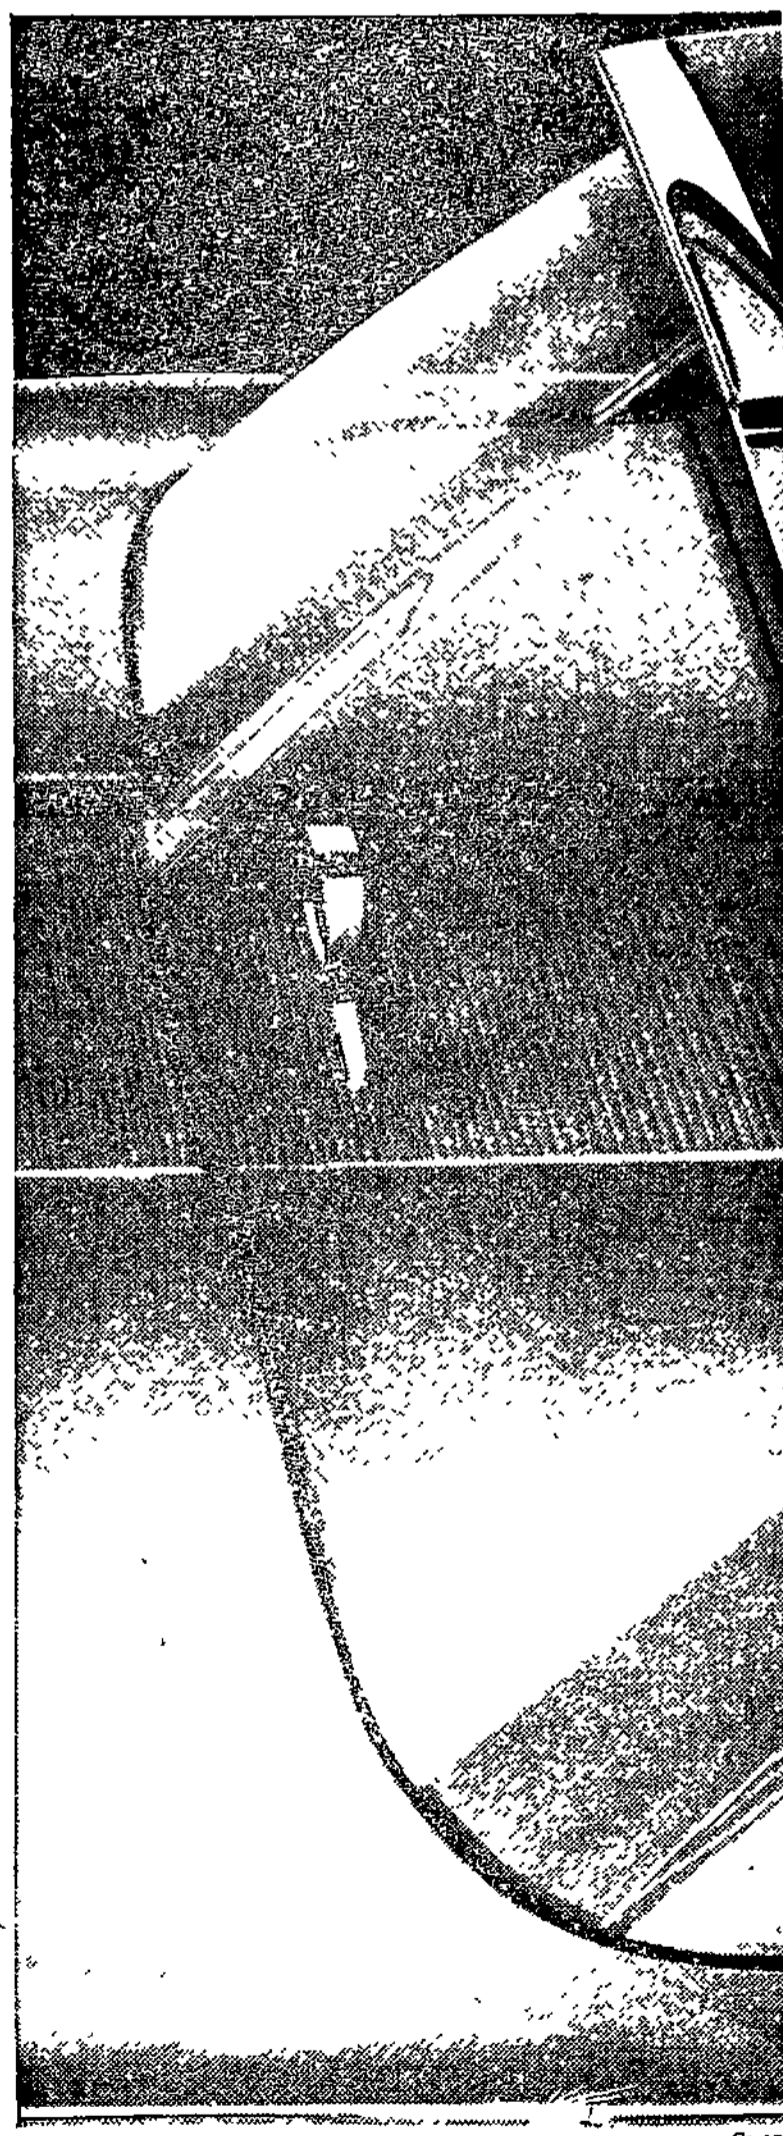

"After its start on November 1, 1864 under President Abraham Lincoln," Mr. Summerfield added, "the United States postal money order system won acceptance quickly from all segments of national life, promptly proving its worth to the soldier and private citizen, as well as to business and industry. For nearly a century now it has been a significant part of our national life and has aided greatly in the economic and commercial development of the nation."

A traveling Box Office for the world's oldest and largest stage attraction the world famed Black Hills Passion Play, will arrive in Warren Saturday, November 10th at 11:00 a. m. The traveling Box Office for the famed production will be manned by the noted concert group, the Zem Zem Chanters, under the direction of Mr. Obed L. Giender. The Chanters from Zem Zem Temple have been heard in concert throughout Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio. They are one of the units of the Zem Zem Shrine Temple who are sponsoring the world famed Black Hills Passion Play featuring Mr. Josef Meier in the role of the Christus on its first appearance in Erie November 19th through 25th. Net proceeds from the famed production will be devoted to the Shriners Chantable Activities Fund.

The Passion Play had its origin 714 years ago in Germany and came to the United States as a permanent American institution in 1932. The home of the production in the New World is now in the Black Hills of South Dakota where it is visited by some 500,000 tour-

VETERANS' DAY

Whether called Veterans Day, Armistice Day or Remembrance Day, November 11 means day of hope in many lands.

Dedicated to the cause of peace, the anniversary of the end of World War I is a holiday in the 48 United States, the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, Guam, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the Panama Canal Zone. The day is commemorated with patriotic ceremonies in Canada, Britain and France. The traditional observance in Warren will be held Monday morning at eleven o'clock, as stated elsewhere in this issue.

The bond of observance among these countries was symbolized most dramatically November 11, 1954, during the visit of Britain's Queen Mother to Williamsburg, Virginia. Queen Elizabeth entered historic Bruton Parish Church and knelt to pray in George Washington's pew.

Prayerful observance of the day grew out of perhaps the wildest and most widespread demonstration in history, the National Geographic Society says. A world-wide explosion of joy followed the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month, 1918, when firing ceased in Europe.

Among the celebrators of that first spontaneous Armistice Day was tenor Enrico Caruso, who sang "The Star-Spangled Banner" from his high hotel window in the old Knickerbocker Hotel in New York.

Hysteria, in the Allied countries, gave way to the pensive feeling that November 11 should be set aside permanently as a special day. Future generations must not forget the price of peace—the hard sacrifices of the living and the dead.

On November 11, 1918, Woodrow Wilson issued the first of many presidential proclamations. The original formal observance set a pattern of wreath-laying, speeches, and parades. For two minutes at 11 a. m., everything stopped but the Nation's heartbeat. Those minutes of silent pause—in offices and in streets—became traditional.

A year later on Armistice Day, France buried her unknown soldier beneath the Arc de Triomphe in Paris. An eternal flame was lighted in a circular brazier at the head of the tomb.

Britain placed her unknown soldier in Westminster Abbey on the same day, and erected a memorial cenotaph in nearby Whitehall, the London thoroughfare flanked by government offices.

The United States, meanwhile, brought home the body of an unidentified doughboy who had fallen in France. This nameless hero was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor. His body lay in state beneath the Capitol Rotunda. And on November 11, 1921, he was enshrined on a crest of Arlington Cemetery beneath a white monument bearing the inscription: "Here rests in honored glory an American Soldier known but to God."

Annual celebrations came and went. Tragically, so did other wars. Veterans' ranks included many men who had not experienced Belleau Wood but the surf of Normandy, the sands of Iwo Jima, and the mud of Korea.

In Canada, Britain and France, November 11 is still known respectively as Remembrance Day, Armistice Day and Jour de l'Armistice.

But Congress in 1954 changed the name of the legal holiday from Armistice Day to Veterans Day to honor those who served in all United States wars. The title of the legislation indicates, however, that the basic purpose remains the same: "A day dedicated to world peace."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And them that worship the host of heaven upon the house tops; and them that worship and that swear by the Lord.—Zephaniah 1:5.

The best way of worshipping God is in allying the distress of the times and improving the condition of mankind.—Abulfazzi.

He Voted—The Hard Way

Here and There

Today our thoughts turn to the Warren-Jamestown football game scheduled for War Memorial Field Saturday afternoon with kickoff time at two o'clock, and that suggests some research about the traditional rivalry, which, according to all reports, started back around 1892, when the team played three games, winning by 6 to 0 scores from both Jamestown, N. Y., and the Chamberlain Military Institute, and losing to Erie YMCA by a score of 38 to 0. Lettermen on the team were Willis Mitchell, Roy Kitchen, Myron Dennison, George Craft, Miller Thomas, Walter Schellhammer, Gene McLaren, Cobham Sager, J. K. Bell, Carl Smith, Earl Clifton and William Hartman.

The team of fifty years ago this season, which defended the laurels of the school in 1906, played nine games, winning all but one, losing a 6-0 contest to Titusville. At that time the schools played mostly home-and-home games, and the second contest with Titusville resulted in a 0-0 tie. Warren scored 133 points that year against 11 by the opponents, with the following scores: Clarendon 0, Warren 37; Salamanca 0, Warren 6; Salamanca 0, Warren 24; Titusville 6, Warren 0; Titusville 0, Warren 0; Bradford 0, Warren 11; Clarendon 0, Warren 11; Chamberlain 5, Warren 7; Allegheny Prep 0, Warren 37. Lettermen on the team were Sam Ostergard, captain; Ed Klepper, manager; Joe Horton, assistant manager; Paul Greenlund; Morgan Noyes; Ralph Jackson; Norman Davis; Henry Haggood; Floyd Schuler; Harry Kemble; Ernest Watson; Karl Lyons; Frank McNamara; Allen Branch; Harold Eaton and Howard Marker.

The game fifty years ago this week was played with Bradford, and was reported in a three paragraph story that appeared the following Monday in the first page of The Evening Times, which said: "The Warren football team Saturday afternoon defeated the Bradford aggregation in a well played game at Recreation Park. The Bradfordites greatly outweighed the locals, but what they lacked in weight they made up in fast playing, and from the very start of the game they played like fiends. Two touchdowns were made and both times the goals were kicked with unerring precision. Wheeler, Bradford's quarterback was hurt during the game and had to be taken out. The locals this year have won three games, and have only been scored on once, and that by the Titusville team. Clarendon has been defeated, Salamanca has been played one tie game and once they have been defeated. Titusville has been played one tie game and once they trimmed Warren 6 to 0, and now Bradford has fallen. If Titusville falls down at Bradford, Warren will have a bid for the Inter-scholastic championship. There was a goodly crowd out Saturday and wires had been stretched to keep the crowd off the field, and this worked much to keep the field free from disorder. To Prof. Homer much thanks is due for this improvement."

Back in those days Warren High always played a Thanksgiving Day game and it is worthy of note that this was the case in 1906 when the Blue and White played and walloped the Allegheny College team by a score of 37 to 0.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★

Israeli Have Won First Battle, but Now What?
BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Israel's quick military victory in the Sinai peninsula east of the Suez Canal presents an entirely new situation in the Middle East, in the opinion of Washington experts on that area.

Heretofore, the great Arab fear of Israeli expansion has been that it would be in an easterly direction, across Jordan. Instead, Israel has moved her western boundary 100 miles from the southern Negev desert wedge to the Suez Canal.

By so doing Israel has multiplied her land area in Palestine many times. It can be argued that the new area is a wasteland of no value. But geographically it is most important.

It gives Israel outlets on both the Gulf of Aqaba and the Red Sea. Still more important, it gives Israel a position of control over the Suez Canal, from which its ships had been barred by the Egyptians.

And it greatly enlarges the wedge which separates the African Arab countries from the Asian Arab countries.

IT IS CONCEDED by military experts that the Israeli maneuver was brilliantly conceived and carried out. It was based on accurate advance intelligence and careful planning.

Egyptian strong points were at first by-passed. Then they were surrounded and put to rout or captured. The bluff of Egypt's military might was both called and checked.

The Egyptians had apparently figured that with the former British bases in the Suez Canal area and with the new tanks, planes and guns from Soviet Russia, they would be invincible. But the Egyptians had no defense plan and they had not been trained for their job. So their eastern army was destroyed.

THERE IS NO PROOF, but there is now little doubt in diplomatic circles that Israel, Britain and France acted in concert on this enterprise.

The general belief is that Israel first persuaded France to go along on the adventure. Then the two of them brought Britain in as leading partner.

British, French and Israeli sources refuse comment on the charge—first made by the Russians—that the three powers acted in unison on a plan agreed to in advance.

The Israeli timing was carefully calculated. Coming just before the U.S. elections, it minimized the chance of active American counter-measures. Coming when Russia was involved in Hungary and Poland, the likelihood of Soviet intervention in the Middle East was also reduced.

What students of the Middle East fear more than a Russian move to help Egypt is that the Soviet will take this opportunity of confusion to move into northern Iran, which she has long coveted. That would involve Britain on two fronts.

Garland Firemen Have Second Call In Less Than Week

Garland—The local Volunteer Fire Department had its second call in less than a week on Sunday, when a call came about 5:00 p. m. to fight a forest fire on the game reserve in Blue Eye Valley. Some 15 men worked several hours to bring flames under control, with a few remaining until after midnight to make sure no further areas were affected. Fire wardens of the area, with the assistance of firemen, dug out stumps to prevent any smoldering remains from starting up again on Monday. Spring Creek equipment stood by at the Garland firehouse Sunday, going up to lend a hand about 7:00 p. m. Earlier call took the equipment to the Nodzak farm on Cole Hill about 11:00 o'clock on Halloween night to bring under control a burning straw pile. Origin of both fires is unknown, according to the firemen.

Elbert W. Nine, System Operator for the Pennsylvania Electric Company, today was named chairman of the 1956 Christmas Seal Sale in Warren County.

The 50th annual campaign to raise funds to fight tuberculosis will be carried on by 3,000 tuberculosis associations throughout the United States: from November 15 through December.

"Great progress against TB has been made in the first half century of the Christmas Seal Sale," Mr. Nine declared. But there is a big job ahead to bring this disease under control. TB strikes 100,000 Americans every year. We must all share in the fight to protect our homes from TB."

Contributions to the Warren County Tuberculosis Association pay for FREE CHEST X-RAYS in industry, schools and the general public and helps pay for all ambulatory patients entering Warren General Hospital. Health films are available to clubs and organizations; Health talks and demonstrations by our Nurse; Free literature distribution and Case investigations.

Mr. Nine is First Vice President of the Warren Lions Club and was campaign chairman for the Warren County Heart Fund drive conducted this past February.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT L. RARESHIED

A double ring ceremony performed September 29 in Bethel EUB church by the Rev. Vincent Rothwell, united in marriage Veneta Irene Tidwick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tidwick, Warren RD 2, and Robert Lewis Raresheid, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Raresheid, Jamestown.

Miss Jean Eames presided at the organ, with Sallie MacFarlane of Erie as soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore exquisite white nylon tulle and chantilly lace over taffeta. Her fingertip veil fell from a jeweled crown and her bouquet was pink roses with ivy.

Nelda Norbeck of Sugar Grove was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Carrie Wilcox and Marjorie Kitzinger. All wore identical gowns of pink net and lace over taffeta, with matching headpiece, and carried pink roses and pom-poms.

Best man was George Raresheid of Warren, O., brother to the bridegroom, with Robert Harrison and John Rasmussen, both of Jamestown, serving as ushers.

Mrs. Tidwick chose black and white tulle with black accessories, with Mrs. Raresheid wearing brown with beige accessories. Both had white rose corsages.

Mrs. Harold Cooper and members of the Dorcas Class presided as aides at a reception held in the church parlors.

Guests from Erie, Corry, Sugar Grove, Warren, Pa., Warren, O., Russell and Jamestown were in attendance.

The couple now resides at 112 Central avenue in Warren.

MRS. HENRY ERICKSON

Well known resident of 7 Pine street, will be privileged to count 93 candles for her November 12th birthday anniversary, but will be honored informally by her family on Sunday. Present for the occasion will be her three daughters, Mrs. C. Walter Johnson, Mrs. Elmer Lundahl, and Miss Charlotta Erickson.

Confined to her home with a fractured hip, suffered in a fall on August 4, Mrs. Erickson will be happy to receive telephone calls and greetings from her friends.

Catholic Daughters To Have Anniversary Event

Court Warren, Catholic Daughters of America, at their November meeting completed plans for their anniversary dinner to be held next Monday, Nov. 12, at St. Joseph's hall at 6:30 p. m. Reservations must be in by Saturday evening and can be made by calling Mrs. S. P. Giunta—6580; Mrs. G. B. Monroe—1464 or Mrs. George Hesch—2051.

The Mass for Departed Members will be said at St. Joseph's church on Nov. 17, at 8 a. m.

At the December meeting members are reminded of the gifts for Gannondale, these gifts are to be a suitable Christmas present for a girl aged 12 to 18 years and should be gift wrapped. The Sisters in charge and these girls are very grateful for anything they receive.

The Memorial Service by Mary Orle and her committee was very impressive and as usual left the audience with memories of other meetings and members who have passed on and the lighting of a candle after each name is very touching.

Drama Department Has Shakespearean Speaker

The Drama Department will be in charge of the Monday afternoon meeting of the Woman's Club, when the guest speaker will be William Cherniak, authority on Shakespeare, whose topic will be "Shakespeare Today."

Mr. Cherniak, member of the teaching staff at Jamestown Community College, came to that city after teaching four years at University of Michigan. He did his undergraduate work at University of Western Ontario, in London, Ontario, and earned his master's degree at University of Michigan.

While at the latter school, he worked under two of the foremost Shakespeareans alive today, Prof. G. B. Harrison and Hereward T. Price. Mr. Cherniak is working on his doctorate, which he expects to complete soon.

Mrs. Wayne Helmbrecht will be hostess for tea following the program.

Put Yourself in His Place When Greeting Husband

"WELL, what have you been doing all day?" When your husband comes home after a hard day's work and asks that routine question he isn't asking to hear a tale of woe. It won't brighten his homecoming any to get that dispirited reply: "Oh, nothing special. Just the same old routine." Did you ever stop to think what he hopes to hear? Or what he'd like to hear?

To begin with, he'd like a little enthusiasm. He would like to find you at least mildly excited over something—even if it is just that the chrysanthemums have started to bloom or Junior has added a new word to his vocabulary.

He has been gone a whole day and in those eight or 10 hours you must have done or noticed or thought something worth telling him about.

ONE THING HE DOESN'T WANT IS MORE TROUBLE

IN the second place, he is hoping against hope you won't have any bad news for him or that he'll have to listen to you complain about how tired you are or what little demons the kids have been. He has had his own troubles. He wants to forget them—and not take on any of yours.

There may be some bad news you'll have to report. But the moment of greeting isn't the time. Wait until he has had a chance to relax, to eat a good dinner, to settle back into the comfort of home life before you make him face anything unpleasant.

Then he'll be better able to take the bad news in stride.

All a woman has to do to know about greeting a homecoming husband is how to put herself in his place mentally.

If she can do that, she'll know he wants a warm welcome from a cheerful wife who has a bit of good news she is eager to share.

Accent Is on the Grown-Up Look

The dresses that small fry will wear for holiday parties have all the flair of grown-up fashions. Fine ribbon-striped pink voile is used for dress (left) with alternate panels of delicate lace and rosebud embroidery. Bouffant skirt is gathered in by wide pink satin sash. Solid and printed cotton are combined (center) in dress with bib front and lace-edged rosebud print. There are two butterfly panels at back. Princess lines appear in party dress (right) of polished cotton paired with lined organza bodice. Polished cotton is used again for collar and cuffs. These dresses are by Kate Greenaway.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Little girl fashions and grown-up fashions for holiday parties have much in common: Back panels. The Empire line. The princess line. Skirts with flattering fullness. Overskirts and set-in panels.

Trimming is important rather than incidental and there's emphasis on fine lace, embroidery, rickrack and fluffy angora knit. A narrow velvet sash or a single rosebud will be used to mark out a waistline.

Fabrics are chosen for practicality and a pretty look. Polished cotton is a prime favorite. There's a great deal of crisp organza and many cotton moires, nylon-and-cotton blends and acetate taffetas. Most have been given crease-resistant finishes for the easiest upkeep. Many take readily to soap and water.

BY GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor

Holiday colors for small girls follow the delicate trend in adult clothes. There are soft yellows and blues, violets and moss greens softened to pale almond. There's a whole rainbow of pinks, from candy to vivid peach. And the winter flower print have a welcome freshness.

Sheffield Rotarians Aid Holiday Lighting Project

Sheffield—Rotary Club met Tuesday for its noonday luncheon, with 25 members present. Milton Dunn and Gene Leseman reported on a meeting held by several local people with respect to Christmas lighting and decorating, and the club voted to make a donation to help defray the costs. It was recalled that, prior to one year ago, the Chamber of Commerce had charge of the street decoration, but now the organization does not function.

George Fetterolf gave a report on the pupils' voting, Eisenhower 450, Stevenson 105.

For the meeting October 30, 24 members were present, and the program was handled by Jack Andrews, who spoke on some of the interesting phases in the building of the Burns and Stillwell roads during World War II. He described the making of napalm bombs and also supplying of the Air Force Base in China. Difficulties in supplying the Air Force were Thorsten and Bjarns.

very interesting and in one of the trouble spots where he was located the temperature reached as high as 147° in midday. The talk was very much enjoyed by the club.

The way of life in each area of this country tends to develop clothes with a flavor peculiar to climate and leisure hours. Here, we show fashions from Picard of Sun Valley that are typical of that area. Loden cloth is dyed pink (left) for a straight-lined coat that's embroidered with silver thread and fake pearls in a design of Alpine flowers. A timeless fashion (center) is the peasant blouse in cotton, trimmed with hand-made cotton lace and worn with a black velvet bodice. Imported straw skirt (right) is banded in white velvet with the widest bands embroidered and jeweled in a floral design. It's shown here with jersey blouse trimmed in silver braid. It can take its place in city life for at-home wear.

NEW YORK—(N.E.A.)—Each part of this country has a way of dressing all its own. California specializes in leisure fashions. The East is dressy. Texas shows the western influence and Florida emphasizes cottons for all-around wear. In Sun Valley, Idaho, the fashions naturally center around skiing, after-ski wear, relaxation and fun. Most of the fashions from Picard of Sun Valley are for after-ski wear. But city dwellers who visit the resort like to take home the fashions. They find that they fit very well into suburban life.

A pink loden cloth coat, for instance, that's sparkled up with silver embroidery and fake pearls could be worn at home as an evening or theater coat. Imported straw skirts, banded in jeweled velvet, are fine for at-home wear in a city. They pair up ideally with a simple jersey or cashmere top. And the perennial peasant blouse, worn with black velvet bodice, can combine either with a skirt or slim black velvet pants.

Bitter Fights

troops. MTI, the official Hungarian news agency, reported Sunday Nagy had fled to a "safe place". MTI at the time was in rebel control.

The Soviet-controlled Budapest radio also denied what it said were foreign reports that Josef Cardinal Mindszenty had been arrested. He was reported in the American Embassy in Budapest.

The official radio admitted insurgents under cover of darkness had plundered Budapest's western trains. Earlier the radio had claimed Soviet troops occupied all Budapest's railway depots. Red broadcasts spoke of "armed persons" and "armed gangs".

Russia's warning against intervention from beyond the Iron Curtain came in a reply from Premier Bulganin to President Eisenhower's note asking that Russian soldiers be pulled out of Hungary.

Bulganin, quoted by Moscow radio, said the question of a Soviet withdrawal "comes completely and entirely under the competence of the Hungarian and Soviet governments."

the county during the month included Garland volunteers answering a forest fire call at Blue Eye and another when boys touched off a straw stack at Cole Hill; North Warren had a grass fire, Russell a chimney blaze and Pleasant Volunteers responded to a fire in a cyclone at Paramount Furniture Co. and a woodshed blaze. Sheffield had a car fire and shortened street light.

Next meeting will be Jan. 10 at Ben White's in Starbuck. No December meeting is planned to conflict with holiday. Kinzua Ladies Auxiliary served a delicious baked ham dinner.

Elementary Principals Of County Hold Meeting

President Helena Iseman conducted the meeting of Warren County Elementary Principals' Association, held last evening in the Spring Creek School.

Among reports presented was that of Frank Johnson, bringing the group up to date on the survey of the speech and hearing program in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hunter reviewed highlights of the State Elementary Principals' Association meeting held in late October at Buck Hill Falls.

Mrs. Howard Andersen, music instructor, talked of Pennsylvania writers and composers and led the group singing.

Concluding, refreshments were served by the social committee.

LEAVE FEDERAL JOBS

Washington (AP)—The lure of private employment is taking from the Eisenhower administration the heads of two government agencies. President Eisenhower announced yesterday his acceptance of the resignations of Theodore C. Streibler as director of the U. S. Information Agency, effective Nov. 15, and of Dr. Martha M. Eliot as chief of the Children's Bureau in the Welfare Department, effective Jan. 1.

Streibler said he had contact with President Eisenhower the day after Russia had warned Britain and France of possible Soviet intervention in the hostilities.

Nasser said he had contact with President Eisenhower the day after Russia had warned Britain and France of possible Soviet intervention in the hostilities.

Legion Presents a Program For Vote At Warren State

Chief Complanter American Legion Auxiliary entertained veterans at Warren State Hospital Thursday evening with their annual Veterans' Day party, several Legionnaires lending a hand with the festivities.

Mabel Bisson, president of the unit, gave the welcoming speech and William Walker, Legion Commander, introduced members of the Legion Drum and Bugle Corps under the direction of Marshall Svensen.

This group was then heard in several selections, including "My Hero", "Blow, Gabriel, Blow", "This Is My Country", "Under the Double Eagle", "Drum and Bugle Glory" and "America".

George Johnson, pianist-humorist, kept the audience in a hilarious mood with his wholesome fun and musical interpretations.

Refreshments were served by the visitors and candy and cigarettes were distributed to all veterans present.

Leona Albaugh, rehabilitation chairman, was in charge of the program, with the following on her committee: Ella Wallace, Effie Speidel, Margaret Rowland, Florence Larson, Edith Ahlquist, Ella Mauk, Alma Sequist, Mabel Bisson, Emma Kiernan and Emma Christian.

URGENT NEED—Monsignor Bela Varga, third from right, President of the Hungarian National Council, blessed medical supplies bound for Hungary before they were loaded onto a plane in New York. Msgr. Varga also asked for a blessing on the United States and its people for the aid they are sending to his troubled country.

ORIGINAL AND COPY—Inspired by the casual, carefree costume of the Venetian gondolier, Franco Bertoli of Italy has created "La Gondolierina," a casual daytime cotton. The dress, with classic shirt blouse and free-swinging full skirt, has padded stitching at hem and waistline. It was shown in Venice with a hat that's an adaptation of the gondolier's.

BAVARIAN STYLE—This lodencoat has novel details like rolled leather buttons on frog fastenings and sleeve bands, and huge low-placed patch pockets. Rows of meticulous stitching and the cowl collar that becomes a hood are other features of the rain-resistant fabric.

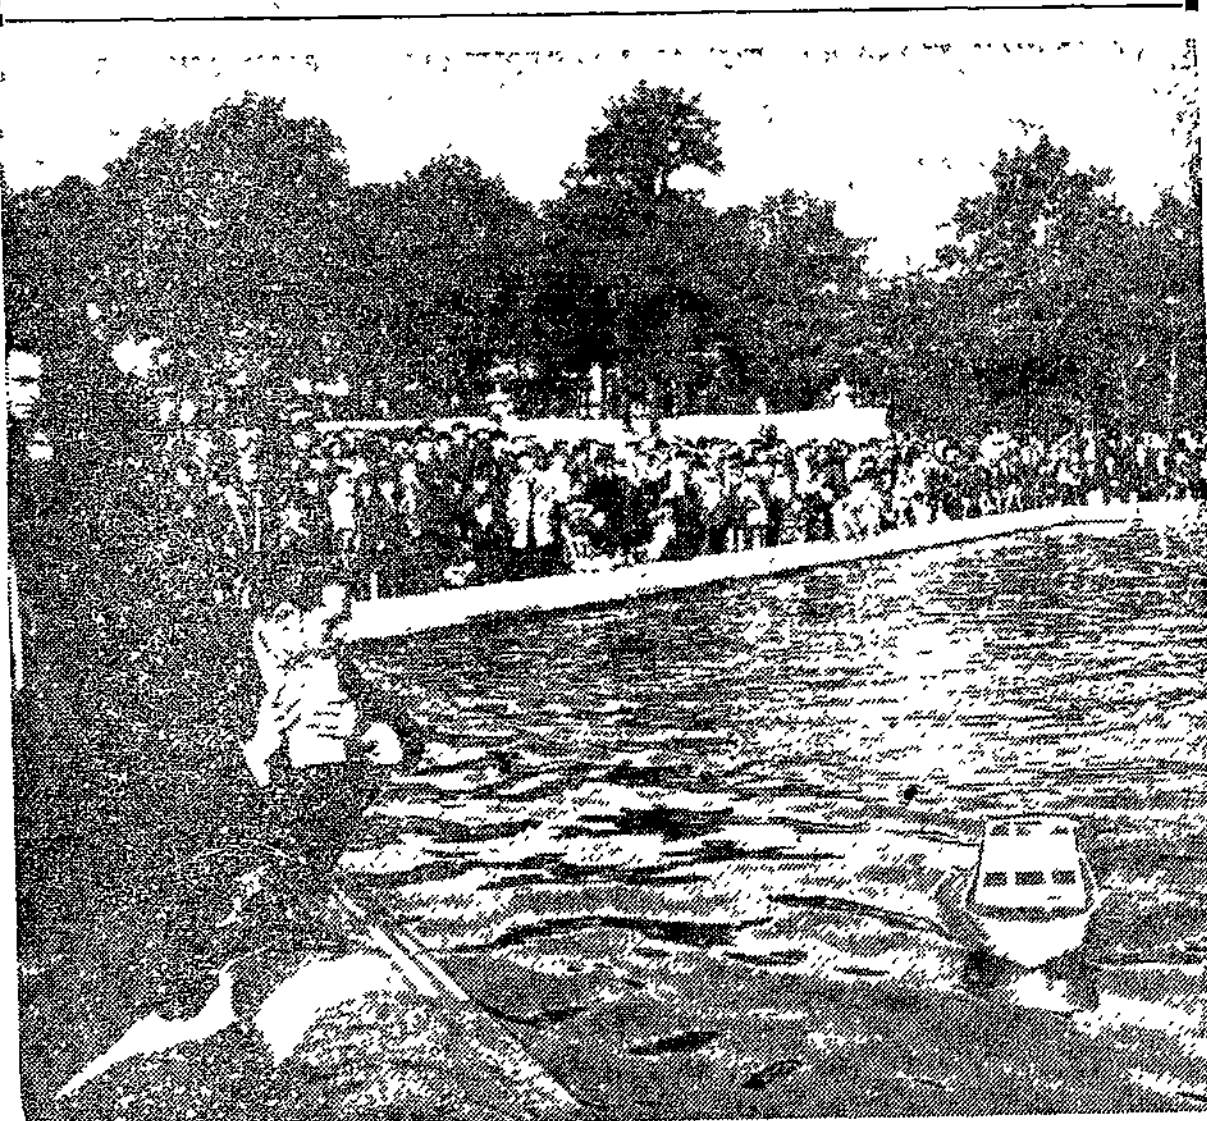

IT'S DOGGONE DOGGY—As Lord and Lady Wolfshmidt politely wait for lunch to start, Jester, an ill-mannered Siamese cat, makes off with their chow. The cat and canine VIP's were on hand for a pet show in Manhattan's Hotel New Yorker, where most of the guests were better behaved than Jester. The dogs are doing their best to ignore the cat's attitude.

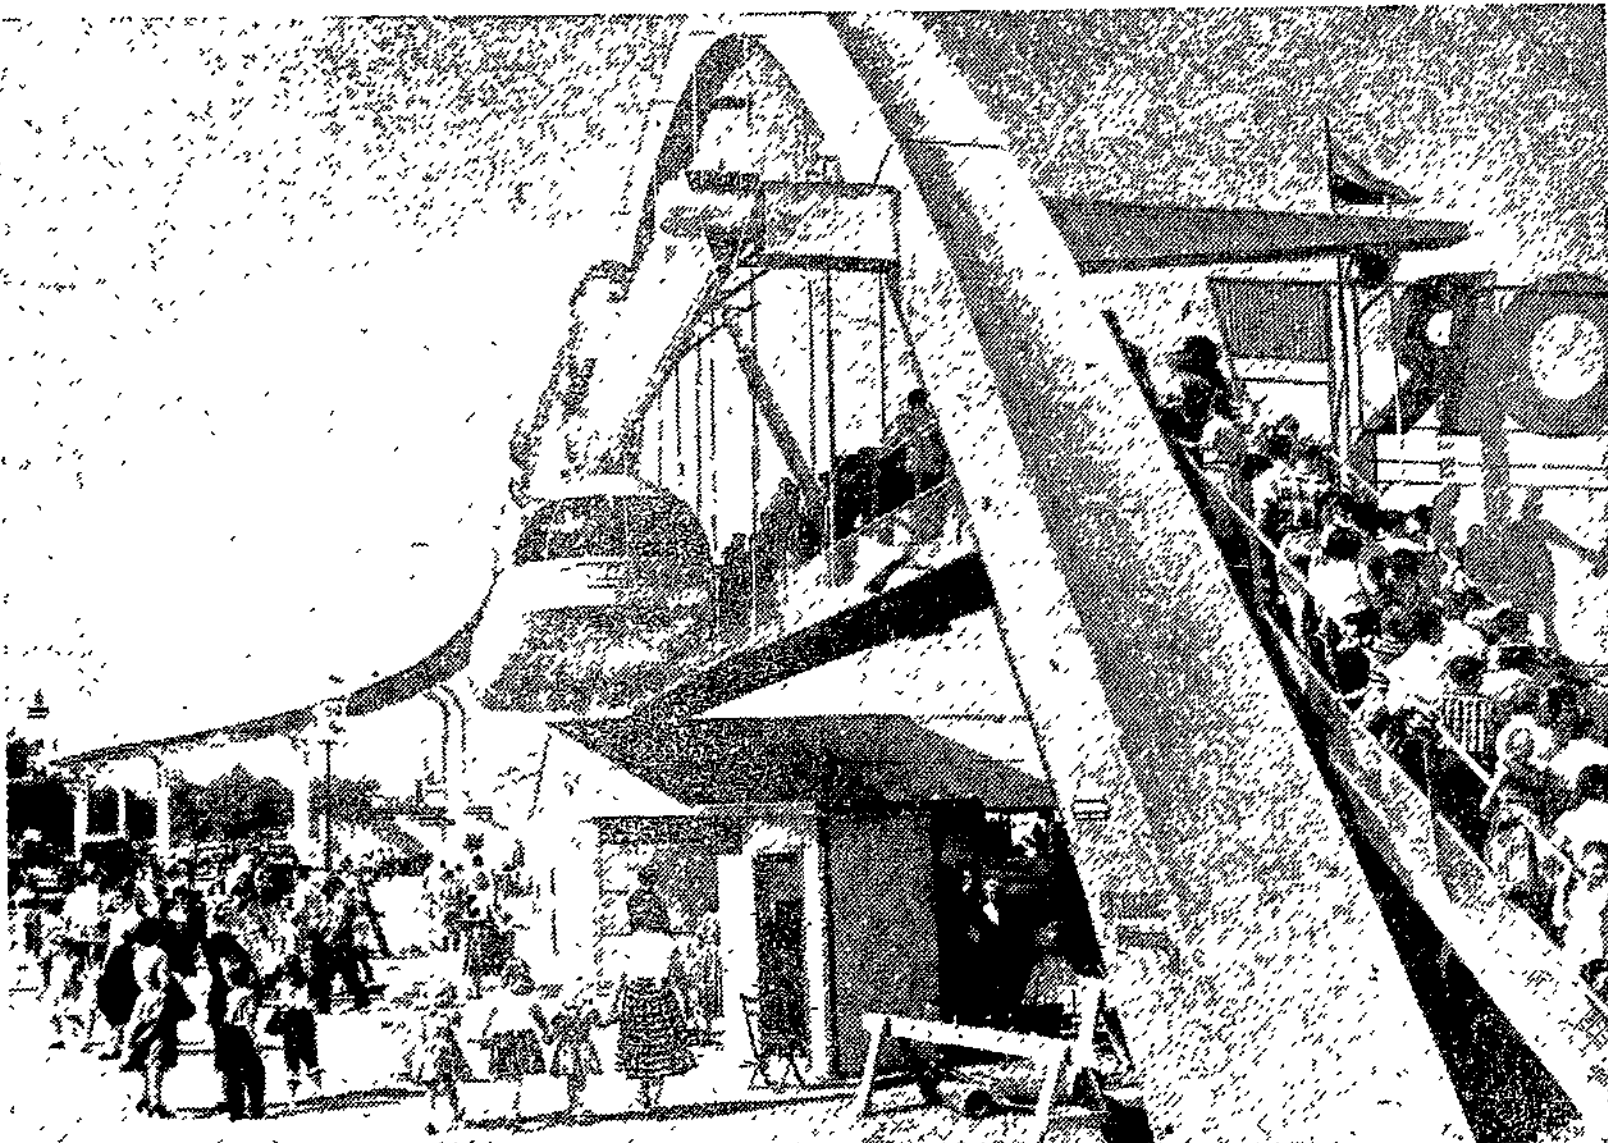

ADDING SOMETHING NEW

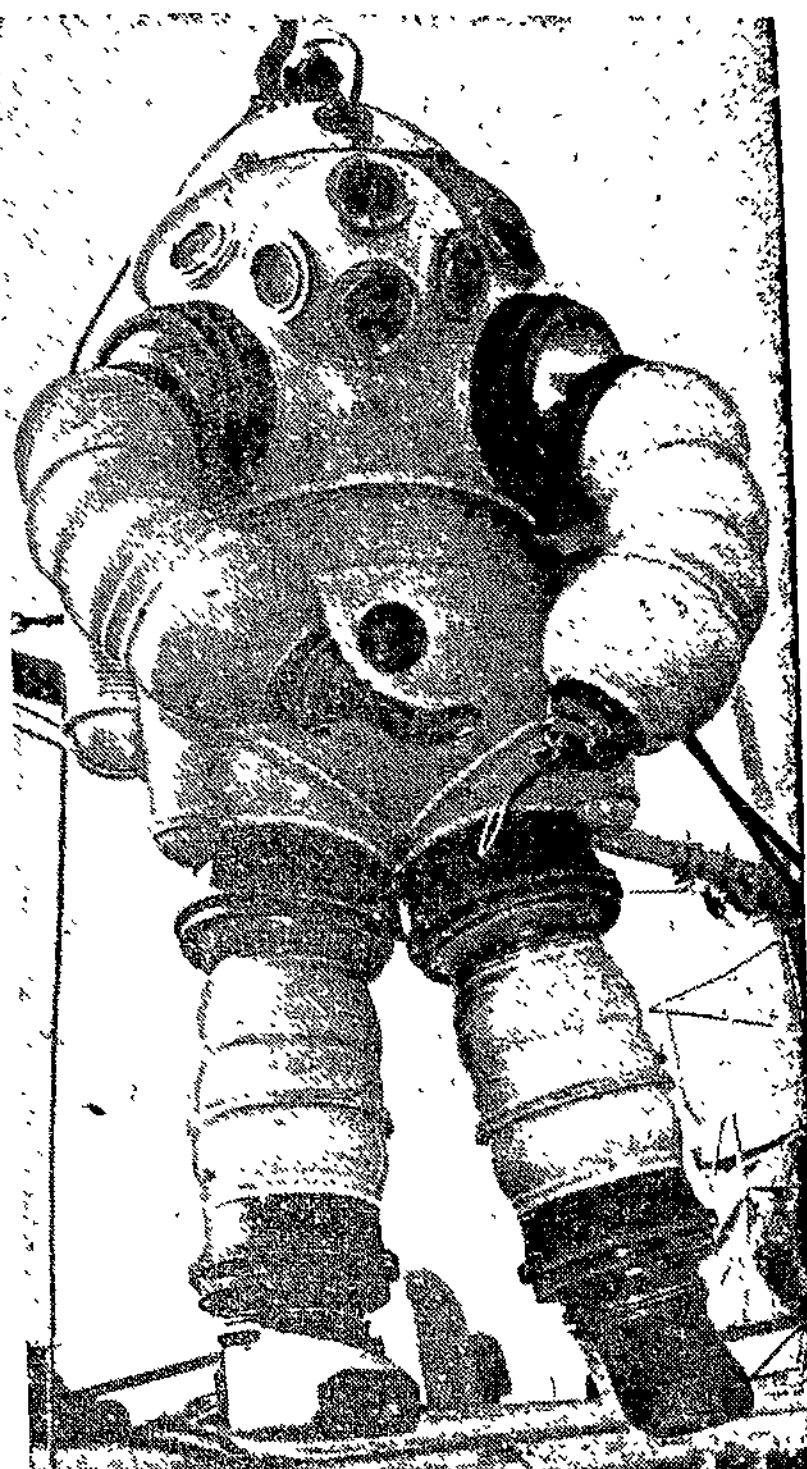

FOR THE NAVY—Crewmen are shown installing special lightweight pipe on the deck of a destroyer for a new system to protect ships from radioactive fall-out, upper left. Made from vinyl by the E. F. Goodrich Chemical Co., the system drenches exterior surfaces of a ship to wash away lethal particles, right. Thousands of tons of water drench the USS Purdy during an experiment, lower left, as an underwater camera took the photo of crew members testing the new system in the artificial downpour, right. The pipe is one-fourth the weight of steel.

PLAYING TO AN AUDIENCE—As Pierre Bignon guides his radio-controlled PT boat, he's got an interested crowd looking on. It took Bignon 2,000 hours to make the electrically-powered scale model, and he's testing it on a pool in the Tuileries Gardens in Paris.

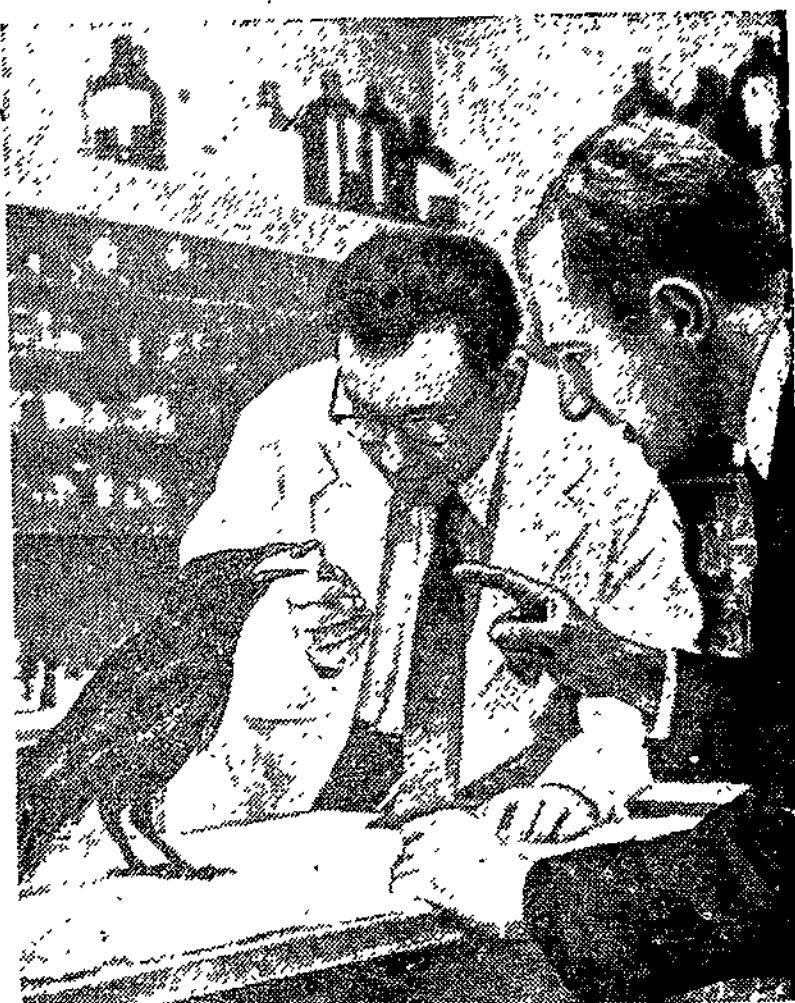

FUN AT THE FAIR—At the annual fair in Dallas, Tex., a lot of visitors lined up for a ride on the 4,000-foot monorail line. The speedy means of transport is similar to one that's been used in Wuppertal, Germany, for 55 years. Plans have been announced for a 39-mile monorail line between Dallas and Fort Worth. The coaches travel 30 feet above the ground.

FOR LOWER DEPTHS—Inside this specially armored diving suit is Italy's diving ace, Capt. Ramondo Bucher. He's on the deck of the Polio, the Italian Navy's specially equipped vessel, ready to explore the Gulf of Naples. Bucher has reached a depth of about 820 feet in contrast to the limit of about 360 feet for ordinary suits. He's exploring new methods of removing coral from beneath the Gulf.

BELL RINGER—Model Lillian Bell is posing in Manhattan's busy Times Square for the benefit of the artists who painted the king-size billboard in the background. Only the curve-some body of Miss Bell was used for the sign, as the head belongs to Carroll Baker, who stars in the movie, "Baby Doll," which it advertises. The billboard shows the biggest gal ever done in true proportion—135 feet long and 60 feet high.

SAXING "AH"—That pet crow isn't really sick; it's just opening wide for an annual physical checkup. The bird's owner took his crow to a pet dispensary in New York where the doctor could give it the once-over. It was found to be in perfect health, and satisfied for another year.

Warren Gladiators All Set for Traditional Classic

Kickoff Time For Annual Game With Jamestown's Red Raiders At Memorial Field Is Two P. M.

The 53rd traditional classic encounter between the Red Raiders of Jamestown and Warren High School Dragons will kickoff at 2 p. m. Saturday on Memorial Field.

Coach Fred Bell reports his team is "up" for the game and will be playing its heart out to extend the victory margin of 27 wins for the locals against 23 Raider victories.

Over the years since the series began back in 1893, the gridiron titans have fought to ties on only two occasions, those being scoreless contests in 1944 and again in 1954. (New York Staters lead in total points racked up over the 63 year series by 480 to 465.)

As is typical in traditional football battles, the scores over the years have been low. Warren administered its worst beating in 1924 when the Raiders were sunk, 34 to 0. Jamestown performed a like feat eight years later when in 1931 the Dragons were also squelched by 34 points, score reading 40 to 6.

The game this Saturday could also be a low scoring contest. Warren has lost through injuries the services of four veteran linemen who should be among the 16 graduating seniors playing their final Dragon game Saturday. Jamestown on the other hand has a team of speed merchants who could be slowed on a soggy gridiron.

Man to watch in the Jamestown backfield is fleet Tom Sharp, a fleet scabbard who has been a consistent ground-gainer. Perhaps not quite as spectacular but still able to clear a big hole is Raider tackle, Wyman Ansley, at 231 pounds and 6 feet, 4 inches tall, a sizeable threat.

Warren will go into the fray riding a three-game win streak over

WEARING A MASK

WATERFOWL, TURKEYS, CROWS, ETC., ARE OFTEN FOREWARNED BY THE FLASH OF A HUNTER'S FACE. WHETHER HE'S CROUCHED IN A BLIND OR NOT, HIS HIGHLY-VIS-IBLE FACE GIVES HIM AWAY IF IT'S SEEN—AND IT CAN BE SEEN FARTHER THAN HE CAN SHOOT. IF HE WEARS GLASSES, THEY FLASH EVEN MORE WARNING.

THIS HANDICAP IS PREVENTED BY WEARING A NET MASK YOU CAN SEE THROUGH. DYE IT A DULL COLOR OR DIP IT IN COFFEE OR TEA. SEW A 1/4"-ELASTIC BAND TO ITS TOP TO FIT UNDER YOUR CAR. NOSE SLIT KEEPS IT IN PLACE.

TICKETS, SNAKE DANCE MOVING TODAY

Weather obliging, the tradi-tional clash Saturday after-noon between Warren and Jamestown should bring out the largest crowd of the sea-son. Raider rooters have al-ready bought up the first block of tickets sent north, and sent down a hurry-up call for more. B&B has sold out its reserve seat ducks and Mack's News, United Cigar and Warren High School re-port tickets are moving brisk-ly. Bonfire at the Pep Rally on Beaty Field this evening will be torched at 7:45. A Snake Dance is expected to wind through the business dis-trict.

Ridgway, Kane and Millcreek. Season picture is three losses, six wins. Jamestown edged Kenmore last week 14-13 but lost the week before to a tough Olean eleven. The Raider season record is four losses, three wins.

The sixteen Warren High School seniors who will be making their last Dragon appearance are Jen-kins, Brooker, Rosequist, Griffin, Hartnett, Swanson, Rasmussen, John Salerno, Sanden, Bruce Tre-venen, Mohnkern, Tom McCune, Lanman, Kremer, Berdine, and Powley, the last four finishing the season early because of injuries.

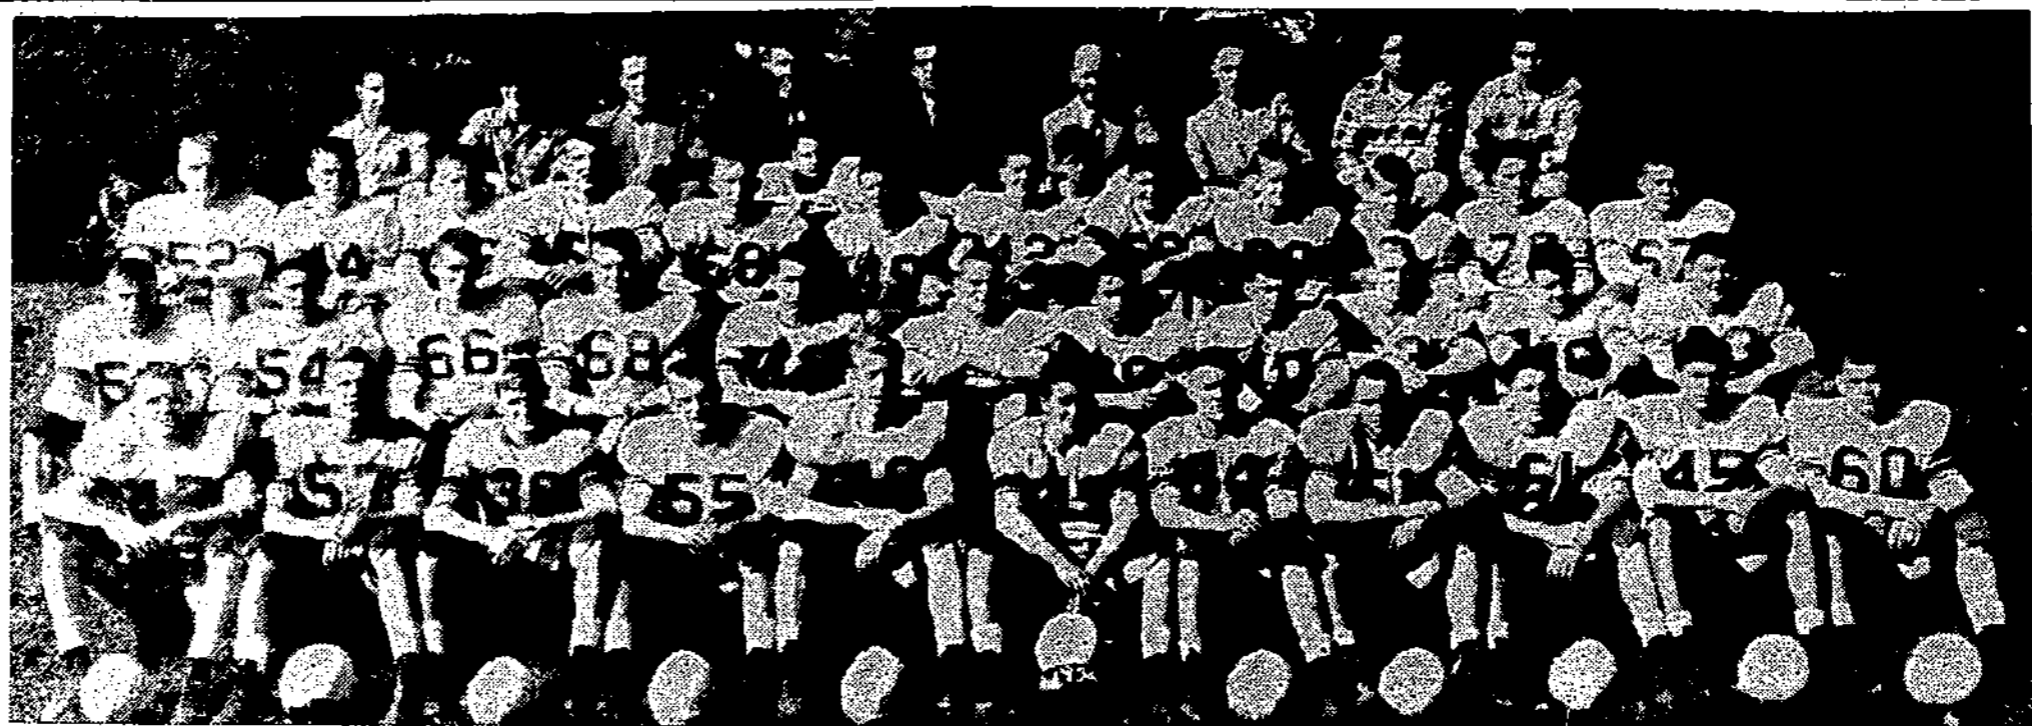

World Champion Racer Will Be Sent to Farm

Yonkers, N. Y. (AP)—Adios Har-ry may race a time or two again this year, but the world cham-pion will be sent to the farm shortly and retire for the season as the greatest one year money win-ning pacer.

J. Howard Lyons, Greenwood, Del. farmer, announced plans for the 5-year-old after Adios Harry whipped seven of the world's fastest pacers last night in the $75,000 Eastern championship at Yonkers Raceway.

Luther Lyons, son of the owner, drove Adios Harry to a hard earned, 3/4 length victory over the west coast threat, Diamond Hal. Third, another 3/4 of a length away, was Bachelor Hanover.

To remove the "clinkety clack" caused by trains passing over rail joints, British railways rebal-anced the tracks, weld them together in one mile lengths and lay them in rubber grooves on concrete ties.

GOOD LUCK, LADS — Rounding out the Warren High School 1956 football season on Saturday at Memorial Field are the following big and little Dragons: (all l to r) Row I: Jim Griffin, Bob Hartnett, John Berdine, Dave Swanson, Dick Kremer, Jim Olson, Dave Sedwick, Connie Hultman, Harry Brooker, John Powley, Clarence Jenkins; Row II, Lou Mascaro, Bruce Trevenen, Jim Mohnkern, Tom McCune, Ronald Sanden, Bill Mervine, Jack Suppa, Kelly McCool, Bob Haslet,

Semifinals Reached As College Teams Reach Home Stretch

The Associated Press

The Rose, Orange, Cotton and Sugar bowls stage their semi-finals tomorrow as college football enters the stretch run for post-season bids, conference titles and All America recognition.

Virtually every section has a game which could be ranked the day's No. 1. But the choicest, par-haps, will be at Atlanta, Ga., where Georgia Tech, ranked second in this week's Associated Press poll, meets Tennessee, rated No. 3. It's a battle of unbeaten and the Southeastern Conference crown rides on this one—with both winner and loser likely to wind up in a New Year's Day bowl game Sugar and Cotton, however.

That's no taffy pull sixth-rank-ed Minnesota and Iowa have in Minneapolis either. This one's for the Big Ten's berth in the Rose Bowl. It will be the national TV game of the day.

At Palo Alto, Calif., Stanford and Oregon State meet in a game that could decide the other Rose Bowl entry as the Pacific Coast Conference host.

The Orange Bowl tickets prob-ably can be printed tomorrow night. Colorado plays Missouri at Columbia, Mo., to name the Big Seven's representative to the Mi-ami classic, while Clemson can pad its already fat bid as the At-lantic Coast Conference entry by beating Maryland.

PROPOSED TELEVISION

First practical television system was proposed by Paul Nipkow, a German, in 1844, before electronic devices were invented. His disk was used to launch television re-search in the 1920s.

Major Hoople Is Razor Sharp Now Picking Them 0 to 0 Ties

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

Father of the Trap

Egad! This week I am going to tell you about the splendid serv-ices you get by buying this news-paper to peruse my pigskin predic-tions . . . Um-hak!

A letter from an avid reader,

This is not all my work, gentle readers. In the foregoing upsets three erudite scholars took a hand: Dr. Miguel Schultz the as-trologer; Prof. Claude Zlobotny, nuclear physicist; and Monsieur Sigismund Sweeney, the horse handicapper. These three great minds are clanking along in high gear for you week after week.

This week's upsets will be Ten-nessee over Georgia Tech, Oregon State over Stanford, Virginia to beat North Carolina and Louisi-ana State to defeat Oklahoma A. and M.

Oh, yes, and there will be two ties scores — Brown and Cornell, with nothing each, and Colorado versus Missouri, 13 to 13. Now go on with the rest of the forecast:

- Warren 14, Jamestown 11.
- Duke 14, Navy 7
- Pitt 14, Notre Dame 7
- Yale 26, Penn 6
- Penn State 26, Boston U. 13
- Brown 6, Cornell 0
- Columbia 14, Dartmouth 7
- Princeton 26, Harvard 14
- Syracuse 20, Holy Cross 7
- Illinois 21, Michigan 14
- Ohio State 26, Indiana 6
- Minnesota 14, Iowa 7
- Oklahoma 34, Iowa State 6
- Kansas 14, Nebraska 0

Artemus Clancy, is couched thus: "Dear Hoople: Recently you gave Iowa to defeat Purdue and Ore-gon State to beat UCLA as your two upsets of the week. I was thunderstruck when these predic-tions came true. How do you do it?"

Entire Pitt Squad Will Be Available For Saturday Game

Pittsburgh (AP) — For the first time in several weeks the entire Pitt squad will be available for ac-tion tomorrow as the Panthers go after their first home victory against Notre Dame in 20 years.

Halfbacks Dick Brown and Nick Passodelli and quarterback Darrell Lewis are ready to go again after being sidelined with leg and ankle injuries. Bowen missed the last three games: Pas-sodelli and Lewis missed the trip to Minnesota last week.

Pitt defeated the Irish 22-19 at South Bend, Ind., in 1952. But they have been unable to lick Notre Dame here since the 1936 team, quarterbacked by the now Coach Johnny Michelson, turned the trick.

Alcoholics May Seek Help From Advisor In Town

Homer L. Barbian of Sharon, member of National Committee on Alcoholism, is in Warren for his usual work at Warren State Hospital in behalf of the staff personnel and to assist with such patients as identified alcoholics.

At present a lantern slide lecture is in preparation. The Pennsylvania Division of Alcohol Studies, University of Yale and National Committee are all co-operating in the subject. Appreciated help and co-operation by Dr. Robert Israel, superintendent, and his staff at Warren State is a source of valued material.

Mr. Barbian, one of seven laymen practitioners in the field of alcoholism recognized by the American Medical Association, shall be in the community until Tuesday and welcomes individual, civic and educational enquiries on problems of alcoholism.

Strict confidence is assured. Phone 3663 or 3554 for private appointment. An open meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous is held at Warren State every Saturday at 3 p.m.

American Education Week

All parents of children attending Home Street School are cordially invited to attend Open House from 7:15 to 9:00 p. m. Monday and join in the observance of Education Week. An informal invitation from the school reads: This is an occasion for learning to know your school and your teachers. Don't miss this opportunity.

In observance of American Education Week, South Street PTA will meet next Monday evening, instead of the usual date. For the program, James Hill, art instructor in the public schools, will be guest speaker. Teachers will be in their rooms at 7:30 p. m. to meet with parents, and the meeting will begin at 8:00.

McClintock PTA will hold Open House at the school Monday evening with teachers in their classrooms at 7:30, and the program at 8:00 o'clock. Mrs. Frances Ramsey will speak on "Early History of Education in Warren Schools", and third grade mothers will serve refreshments.

Parents of Tidoute Area Joint High School are reminded of Education Week Open House on Monday, when girls from the student body will serve as guides to take visitors to the rooms of their choice. Exhibits will be shown in the various rooms and refreshments will be served in the home economics room between 11:37 and 12:30.

YMCA Membership Campaign Is Off to Enthusiastic Start

Under the slogan "Let's Put Muscle in His Character," the Y. M. C. A. membership campaign got off to an enthusiastic start last evening, when all ten teams were well represented at the opening dinner-meeting at the "Y".

James Potter, general chairman of the drive organization, acted as toastmaster, and Francis Hetrick, chairman of the Christmas Emphasis Committee, gave the invocation.

In a welcome address to the workers, Alan H. Templeton, president of the Association, gave a very informative talk on the many and varied services of the YMCA to the community, and Dan. Walton, general secretary, followed with a short picture-story of the group of boys and girls enjoying the activities.

Inspirational talks were given by the division leaders, Francis Hetrick and Allen Anderson, and supplies were issued to all team members.

The first report meeting of the drive toward the goal of 700 members will be held next Tuesday at 8:00 at the "Y".

There's Right and Wrong Way to Do Your Dishes

BY KAT SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

THE homemaker who suspects she's spending too much of her day up to her elbows in suds and dirty dishes might do well to take a closer look at the gadgets, detergents and home economists' recommendations designed to speed and simplify this basic housekeeping procedure.

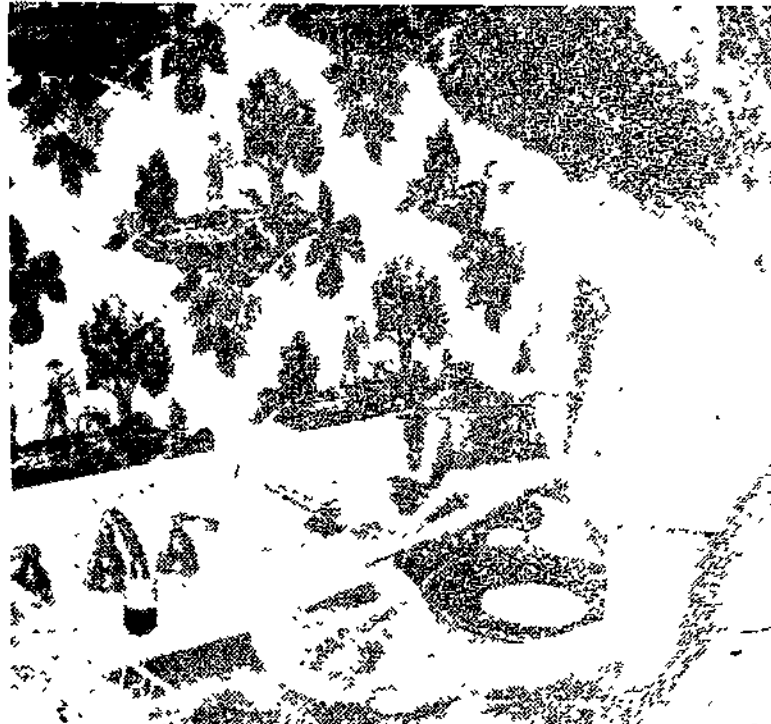

"I spend all my time washing dishes," a young woman said to me the other day. But, at mid-afternoon, the dish drainer was still filled with breakfast dishes. Unwashed coffee cups were stacked on the drainboard, groceries to be put away were piled on the table. Soiled mixing bowls stood on the counter.

We all get into similar predicaments occasionally, but the efficient homemaker learns how to bring order out of confusion with production-line speed.

MAKE IT A HABIT, say home economists, to wash and put away mixing bowls as you use them. Put supplies away promptly to clear the decks for the next meal's dirty dishes.

Suds-soak cooking utensils as soon as they are emptied; use cool suds for egg, milk or starch mixtures.

Once a meal is under way,

Trio of cleanup-time helpers for this homemaker goes to work on the dishes. They're the modern detergent in the water, the sponge mop in her hand and the no-splash attachment on faucet's nozzle.

While the dishes to the kitchen table brush to loosen food particles in muffin tins and cake tins. Don't dump all the dishes helter-skelter into the sink or dishpan. Rinse, then stack them on the drainboard of glassware, silver, china, pots and pans.

Don't soak porous pottery dishes or wooden bowls. Wash or wipe woodenware with a suds cloth, rinse and dry promptly.

Have such special dishwashing aids as long-handled dishmops, bottle brushes, slotted sponges (for cleaning rims of glasses) and strong-bristled vegetable brushes within easy reach. (I hang mine on hooks over the sink.)

IF YOU'RE a member of the fast, rinse and drain-dry school of thought, take the following precautions with your tableware.

Super or stainless flatware should be rinsed and dried by hand. Cover the cupina with a plastic cloth or plastic for protection from dirt and don't let it dry until thoroughly dry.

Plastic and the scouring pad for the sink. A pad in the sink cleans a pan clean in a fraction of the time and with less use of elbow grease on your part.

Keep sponges, brushes and dishmops in good condition for maximum efficiency. Wash them with soap and hang up to dry—replace them when they show signs of wear.

They're Styled For Comfort

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Clothes for at-home holiday wear can take much the shape you prefer this year. If you like tapered pants but don't feel that you're the type for them, you can pick from separates that are imaginative and that give you the flattery of a wide, swishy skirt.

Pants have finally reached the point of really good line in design. True, they've gone through awkward stages: too wide, too tight, too tapered, too uncomfortable. Women complained that they looked fine standing up but they found it impossible to sit down in them. What amounts very nearly to an engineering feat has produced the tapered slacks, designed for both grace and comfort.

The wide skirt for holiday wear often gets its own companion in the way of a coordinated sweater or jersey top. Skirt fabric may be used as trim for the top or the skirt color may be borrowed for satin or jeweled trim.

We show (left) the tapered slacks in vivid emerald green velvet, worn with wing-collared shirt in an Oriental print.

Both shirt and slacks are washable. Lace skirt (right) is nylon-and-acetate with black taffeta under-skirt. It's piped in black satin at matching lace, also with the black hemline. Orlon cardigan has satin trim.

SMUTTY TRAVELS
Churchland, Va. (AP)—The village blacksmith hereabouts no longer stands beneath a spreading chestnut tree. He travels in a pickup truck and works mostly on farm machinery which doesn't use horseshoes. Furthermore, all chestnuts have been killed by blight.
